

La Leccese

Concept

Over time, the Leccese stone has become a material iconic for the world of architecture and design, describing with its aesthetic a typical trait of Mediterranean Italy.

Compared to its origins, it has seen its own positioning by switching from simple and rustic material to symbol of refined elegance, especially thanks to the conservative recoveries of ancient farms that have become emblem of culture, style, class.

From the point of view of ceramic interpretation, this type of products (leccese stone, Ostuni chianche, etc.) represent an effective proposition especially in the hot spots (e.g. French Riviera and southern Italy). However, it has also been successful in other territories.

Our proposal is to give the product this key of readings: high, elegant, contemporary.
